Bergenwater Outspan

Wow!! An amazing outspan was enjoyed by all, we had great weather, great company and a great river to relax in.

Our weekend started on Friday, but some of our members arrived on Thursday already so by the time I arrived on Friday having to set up in the hot sun they were all chilling already and swimming in the river.

It was not long before the Friday campers got in on the action and by the evening everyone had set out and joined Eugene to celebrate his birthday with some cocktails, shooters and cake.

The rest of the evening was spent sitting around the geselsvuur and catching up. Some into the early hours of the morning.

Saturday was another scorcher and it was so nice to hear the sounds of the little ones running up and down, im not sure if the grans will agree though.

Some members just relaxed and chilled in the river for most of the day.

We ventured down the road to Wiesenhof restaurant for brekkie, well worth a try...

In the evening fires were lit and the street braai was well underway and some managed/listen to watch the Stormers game, pity about the result.

We were treated to a surprise later the evening, when Jay's son, Tai, a musician from Germany treated us to some awesome guitar playing and singing, and in some cases ably supported and in others no so ably supported by our members in a sing a long. It was so good to have the park to ourselves so that we could enjoy ourselves without disturbing others.

Sunday found us searching for shade to hold the indaba, which ended with a demo from Eugene on a fire safety kit. The kit can be purchased at R460, I've already bought mine...

After indaba and obligatory group pic, everyone started packing up, some went back to swim, and then all headed back home safely.

Thanks again for an awesome weekend.
Yours in camping, Leighton

FINES Fines Master Leon Manual

Both Eugenes; Michael, Trevor, Gavin, Roland & Earl for being noisy on Friday after midnight and keeping the visitors awake. So Audrey, Sam, Natasha, Penny & Wendy each get a fine for allowing their husbands to make a noise Gavin & Trevor since their wives are not here for not reeling in one another Zander for complaining about his visitors snoring

On Friday Evan's sister Ambie mistakenly wondered into Evan's van looking for something, thinking it was Eugie's van. Eugie & Evan each get a fine for not marking their vans and causing Amber's confusion.

Joan for allowing Candice to sleep in a contaminated tent. Not very hospitable of you and for not offering that Matthew and Shaurne to stay over

On Friday Johnny, Mandy, Mark and Carla came past the gesels fire on the way to the toilet. Johnny stayed behind and continued the conversation causing more noise. So Mandy gets a fine for allowing Johnny to stay behind and make a noise

Evan put lots of wood on the fire then turned around and went to, he was the cause of the guys staying late. So Joan gets the fine for calling Evan to bed Evan for interrogating me on who is the fines master

Last night Johnny tripped and fell over the musician's guitar case, which was on the ground behind them. So Sandra gets a fine, I think she placed it there for Johnny to fall

On Saturday Sandra came walking past with her grandchildren Leighton offered her a drink which she declined, then he said the drink was champagne and orange juice, she replied yes please and said the children can look after themselves. So Johnny gets a fine for allowing Sandra to walk with the girls unsupervised, she clearly needs supervision

Trevor for losing his phone and blaming Michael for not looking after his phone.

Leighton for putting on his music while Tye was still singing

Leighton again for complaining that people were talking while Tye was singing

Wooden spoon

Tye's singing was amazing. But this person rewrote the words to Bob Marley's NO WOMAN NO CRY. I unfortunately cannot repeat the words. Spoon goes to Trevor for his rendition of NO WOMAN NO CRY

The issuing of fines is a fun event and all proceeds go to charity.
